RUN MELBOURNE 2009

On Sunday June 28th L4life is fortunate to have some dedicated runners who are prepared to give up their sleep-in (I know John Paul it's a 9am start time!!!) to help raise funds to subsidise early intervention programs for preschool children with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD). Here are a few of our "Heroes" running for us and their EveryDay Hero link so you can sponsor them and make it worth their efforts...

John Paul Collins (pictured here winning Dancing with the Stars in 2007 with Kate Ceberano - the "fierce" competitors to L4life's own runner-up Fifi Box!!!) You can support JP by clicking on his link

Team Autism are a husband & wife team who have a strong background in healthcare and hence have a keen interest in health and fitness. Richard is a medical doctor and Karen a pharmacist and now full-time mum. They migrated from South Africa to Melbourne in 2002 and have two beautiful young children, Ashlee and Matthew. They both enjoy the benefits of being regular runners. With their love of Melbourne and for children, they are thrilled to be teaming up to raise funds for Learning for Life by running the Half Marathon.

Jason McSpeerin is running the half marathon in the Run Melbourne..” I'm aiming to run it in under one hour and 45mins. Apart from spending most of my spare time with my two sons and partner I also enjoy going fishing and following my football team the Brisbane Lions. I heard about L4L/Autism through a good friend who is actively involved in the organisation. I'm excited about the opportunity of being part of such a worthwhile cause.”

A Greek tour guide named Georgia attempts to recapture her kefi (Greek for “mojo”) by guiding a ragtag group of tourists around Greece and showing them the beauty of her native land.

Along the way, she manages to open their eyes to the wonders of an exotic foreign land while beginning to see the world through a new set of eyes in the process.

We had “Mary and Max” in autism awareness month and now the antithesis...something light and fun... share a film for a good cause -
